Visiting Labor and Delivery Riverside University Health System and Montclair Medical Center

The value of visiting, as a means to establish and maintain meaningful family relationships, is recognized and encouraged at the California Institution for Women (CIW). Visiting shall be conducted in as an accommodating manner as possible in keeping with the need to maintain order, safety of persons, the security of the medical facility, and required custodial and medical activities. Failure to comply with the established regulations and policies may result in a warning, termination, suspension or revocation of approved delivery coach. Visiting Labor and Delivery Riverside University Health System (RUHS) Patient Care Services mandates there may be only one delivery coach in Labor and Delivery, as well as the exam and recovery room.

Parking

Visitors are required to park within the medical facility's designated "Visitor Parking" areas. Vehicles parked outside of the designated areas shall be subject to Vehicle Code violation fines and/or mandates enforced by local law enforcement.

General Visitor Information

The California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation (CDCR) is prohibited from recognizing hostages for bargaining to affect an escape by inmates or for any other reasons.

Smoking is prohibited.

It is a crime for visitors to:

- Assist an inmate to escape
- Bring into the medical facility any weapon, firearm, ammunition, explosive device, tear gas, pepper spray, alcohol or controlled substances
- Take letters and/or written documents to or from an inmate
- Falsely identify themselves to gain admission to visit an inmate
- Enter the facility with the intent to visit an inmate without the expressed permission of the Warden if the visitor has previously been convicted of a felony or is on parole

Visiting Hours

Maternity: 11:00 AM - 8:00 PM

Due to unexpected arrival of newborns, there are no designated visiting hours for Labor and Delivery. However, visitors shall be denied entry to the delivery room unless prior authorization has been given from the Warden, or designee, allowing one visitor to be present during delivery.

Approval Process

Inmate Request for Delivery Coach

Inmates wishing to have a delivery coach present during delivery must request prior written approval from the Warden by submitting an Inmate Request for Interview GA - 22 with the approved visitor's information to the Community Prisoner Mother Program Family Services Coordinator (FSC). The FSC shall verify the requested visitor is an approved visitor. If not, the following process shall be followed:

- The inmate must obtain a California Department of Corrections (CDC) 106 Visiting Questionnaire
- The inmate shall write their name and CDCR number on the form and sign and date the back
- The inmate shall mail the form to their prospective visitor
- The prospective visitor shall complete the CDC 106 and mail it to:

  California Institution for Women
  Visitor Processing Center
  16756 Chino-Corona Road
  Corona, CA 92880

When the CDC 106 is received from the prospective visitor, a Department of Motor Vehicle (DMV) and California Criminal Identification and Information review shall be completed. Upon clearance of his/her background history, the prospective visitor shall be granted visiting privileges. This process may take up to 30 days to complete.

If the prospective visitor is approved, the inmate shall receive written notification and shall be responsible to inform their visitor and the FSC.

Labor and Delivery Visiting Brochure

Inmates requesting a delivery coach can obtain the Labor and Delivery Visiting Rules and Regulations (Attachment A) brochure from the Inmate Advisory Council's office or their housing unit. Inmates shall place their name and CDCR number on the brochure and mail or bring it to the Visiting room to have their prospective delivery coach sign and date the back of the brochure, acknowledging they have read and understand the rules and regulations for visiting at RUHS. The delivery coach must sign or they shall be denied approval. The original document shall be retained in the inmate's Visiting File.

The inmate shall return the signed brochure to the FSC or the prospective delivery coach may mail it via First Class Mail to:

California Institution for Women
Attn: Community Prisoner Mother Program Coordinator
16756 Chino-Corona Road
Corona, CA 92880

Once the information is received (approved visiting form, signed Labor and Delivery Visiting Rules and Regulations Brochure, [signed by the prospective delivery coach and the Visiting Sergeant], and a print out of the inmate's Visiting list), the documents are forwarded to the Community Beds Liaison Correctional Counselor (CC) II Supervisor. The Community Beds Liaison CCII then creates a signed/dated memorandum, along with a CDC 128-B General Chrono requesting approval, and forwards all the documents to the Warden for final review and approval. Upon approval/disapproval, the Community Beds Liaison CCII shall contact the inmate advising them of the status. It is the inmate's responsibility to advise the prospective delivery coach of their approval/disapproval. If approved the Community Beds Liaison CCII Supervisor provides copies of the approved documents to the Watch Commander. The Watch Commander is responsible to notify the delivery coach when the inmate is in labor and being sent out for delivery. Upon review of the inmate's Electronic Records Management System (ERMS) file, the reviewing authority shall note on the CDC 7252 Request for Authorization of Temporary Removal for Medical Treatment the delivery coach's name and identification (ID) number for the custody officer to identify the delivery coach at RUHS. Upon arrival, the custody staff shall provide this information to the hospital staff.

This supplement is based on the requirements of RUHS Labor and Delivery Visiting Rules and Regulations. If a birth occurs at a different facility, the local delivery room visiting rules shall be adhered to.

Message for Pregnant Women

Deciding who will care for your child(ren) while you are incarcerated is a very important decision. It is important you decide where you want your baby to live as early as possible, before you give birth. In addition to wanting a safe and loving environment for your child, there are other things you must consider. There are several laws governing the placement of every child not living with his or her parents. To help you make the best legal choice, you are being provided the following summary of placement options:

1. You may release your baby from the hospital to place your child with one of the following relatives of the child:
   - Father, adult brother, sister, half-brother, half-sister, nephew, niece, aunt, uncle, or first cousin.
   - All relatives whose status is preceded by the words "step", "great", "great-great", or "grand".
   - The spouse of any of the people listed above, even after the marriage is ended by death or divorce.
   - God parents or friends

2. You may seek legal assistance for a private adoption with someone you know who wants to adopt the baby and will file an adoption petition in court. If you do not know anyone willing to adopt your baby, the Family Services Coordinator (FSC) can assist you with adoption.

   When an adoption is approved by the court, it is permanent, so if adoption is the choice you are thinking about, you should be sure about it before you release the baby for adoption. You have a right to know all the facts and choices open to you and to have an adoption counselor help you decide what to do. You have the right to change your mind up until the time the Court makes the adoption final, even if you have already signed the papers with an attorney. Be sure you know how long that time period will be.

3. Notification of the birth of your child to your County of Legal Residence Child Protective Services (CPS) Office will occur when:
   - There is an open CPS case or a closed CPS case within 1 year.
   - Your placement plan fails. For example, the person with whom you arranged to care for your child does not pick up your child from the hospital, or
   - The child is abandoned. You did not make any arrangements for the care of your child.
4. We recommend that you assign a Temporary Guardianship/Power-of-Attorney for your infant. This can be arranged at the institution by a Notary Public for a small fee.

5. It is very important that you contact the person you have identified on your Newborn Placement Information Form (NPIF) prior to the birth of your child. The Family Services Coordinators will assist you in making arrangements for your baby to be picked up from the delivery hospital.
